ANCORA EMPLOYER HEALTH: ESSENTIAL HEALTH CHECK

BENEFITS OF THE ESSENTIAL HEALTH CHECK

Want to assess your organization's health needs and drive better outcomes over the long term? The Essential Health Check is right package for you.

1Strong return on investment

Did you know that during 2021, 47 out of every 1000 working days in the Netherlands were lost because of illness? An employee wellbeing program can help to tackle this risk. According to independent research, employee wellbeing programs lead to reduced levels of absenteeism, stress and burnout, generating significant return on investment over the long term.

2Focus on preventive health

Prevention always beats cure! With the Essential Health Check, your employees have a baseline to start improving their health and wellbeing.

3Actionable data

The Essential Health Check looks at both mental and physical health, focusing on the areas of health people can control through their lifestyle. Meanwhile, data from our anonymized dashboard helps you as an organization to see what's going well and identify areas for improvement.

4For the many, not the few

Traditional employee wellbeing programs only examine the health of senior executives. But the Essential Health Check lays the foundation for good health across all organizational levels.

5Private and confidential

We share individual results and recommendations privately with each employee through a secure web portal and mobile app.

6Excellent employee experience

In today's labor market, wellbeing has become a crucial part of the reputation of every organization. By showing you care about your people's health, you can foster culture change and ultimately attract, engage and retain the best talent.
